OIL AND GAS

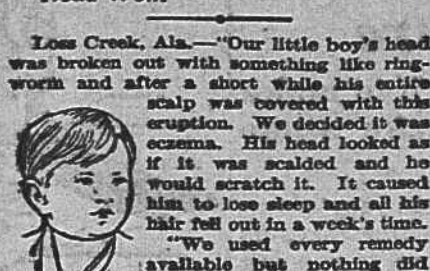

The Wildwood Oil Company's well on the Ift farm at Evans City, Butler county, is drilling in the sand and unless it gets a second pay will not be better than a light producer. At seventeen feet in the sand the first pay was encountered and the hole filled up 300 feet with fluid. They are still drilling and a second pay is expected. Some of the town-lot wells completed at Evans City have failed to find a second pay, and this may be one of that kind. The location of the well is very important and if it does not prove a larger producer than that for which it is now being drilled, it will make the outlook for a western extension of the pool anything but encouraging.

Northeast of the town-lot development and about midway between the town and the Amber Oil Company's third sand duster in the Sutton farm, the South Penn Oil Company has completed a well on the Weber lot and has a duster. At any rate, the well was deep enough in the sand at noon yesterday.

ECZEMA COVERED LITTLE BOY'S SCALP

Caused Loss of Sleep. Hair All Fell Out in a Week's Time. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Head Well.

Loss Creek, Ala.—"Our little boy's head was broken out with something like ringworm and after a short while his entire scalp was covered with this eruption. We decided it was eczema. His head looked as if it was scalded and he would scratch it. It caused him to lose sleep and all his hair fell out in a week's time. We used every remedy available but nothing did him any good. I finally got a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and began to use them. In less than one week I could see a marked improvement so I bought a bar of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment and before we had used all of them our little boy's head was not only well but had a growth of beautiful hair." (Signed) Mrs. S. A. Strubling, August 1, 1914.

terday to get the pay and had not found it. Should this well prove a failure, as now indicated, it will conclusively shut off an extension to the northeast.

Leasing is Active.

The Southwest is the most favored now for an extension. Leasing in that direction is still quite active. Local parties have leased the Lutz farm located a mile in advance of third-sand production, and paid a bonus of $1,500. Four separate and distinct companies are crowding in as close as they can get to the South Penn Oil Company's good producer on the B. F. White farm. There are three rights up on another building on adjoining lots, and it is possible to step from one rig to the other. By the time all are completed their respective owners will not have so much money but they will be a whole lot wiser. The same is true of those who are drilling in the central part of the town. In one part of the village there are twelve wells completed, drilling and starting on a space not to exceed 1 1/2 acres.

According to the last twenty-four hours' gauge of the South Penn Oil Company's No. 5 on the B. F. White farm, it averaged 18 barrels an hour. The McSweeney and Company well on the Pierce lot is down to ten barrels an hour.

Drilling Old Well.

The South Penn Oil Company has started to drill its old No. 1 on the B. F. White farm to the third sand, but are just now drilling on something hard, probably which they have no record. Before the close of the week there will be no fewer than six, and probably eight, wells getting to the third sand. The excitement, daunted by the dry holes and small wells on a number of town lots there are still those who show a willingness to take chances. Rigs are going up on more lots and it looks as though the flurry would not end as long as there is a location undrilled. To the many fear of town lot owners the excitement has brought no small amount of "easy" money. Nearly all have received some bonus money, and in some instances more than the house and lot would bring if offered for sale. While some of the rigs are not in the living room, they are so close as to shut out the light from the windows.

The big gasser near East McKeesport, in Versailles township, is partly under control. The Peoples Gas Company has purchased the output of the well, but is not to pay 7 cents per thousand cubic feet, as has been reported. In the face of what the gas company had to contend with it is regarded by gas experts as a masterly piece of work to be able to get the well under control in so short a time. It will likely be a long time if ever, before another well of such pressure will be found. The volume of gas developed in this well exceeds that of any other well ever drilled in this county, and its location so near to the base of consumption makes it all the more surprising. It has stimulated leasing in Versailles and adjacent township, and holders of leases have visions of future great gassers. The pressure of the well has subsided—some thing one-fourth—and it is reported that the well is producing more water. Up to this time no new work has been started in the immediately vicinity of the well.

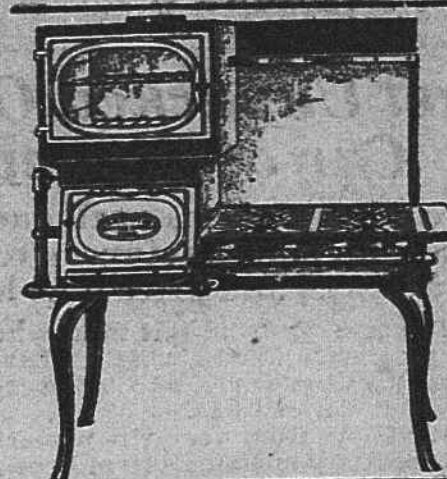

Little Surprise.
West Virginia has a little surprise in the way of a good producer in a district that has been furnishing anything better than light producers. In Union district, Clay county, the Daventport Oil and Gas Company has drilled No. 13 on the Frank Cox farm into the Big Injun sand and has a show for a thirty or forty barrel per hour. The location is 600 feet north of No. 3 on the same tract. For more than two years there has been development work in this district, and the wells have averaged less than ten barrels at the start. In the same district the Craig Oil Company has started to drill No. 3 on the J. Craig and Sons' farm.

Another of the four wildcats drilling in Cabin Creek district, Kanawha county, is a duster. It is the South Penn Oil Company's test on the Ohley Coal Company's tract and is located on Cabin Creek about 2 1/2 miles southeast of the Columbus Producing Company's production. The South Penn Oil Company's test has been drilled and found to show oil or gas at that depth. It is still drilling.

In the West sand development in Elk district, Kanawha county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 7 on the Anna C. Skinner farm and has a 50-barrel producer. At Glovers Gap, Mannington district, Marion county, the Carnegie Natural Gas Company has drilled a test on the James O'Hara farm into the thirty-foot sand and has a show for a fifteen barrel pumper.

On the Ohio side, in the Rindards Mills, district, Ludlow township, Washington county, the Collect on Delivery Oil Company has completed a second test on the Scott Curry farm and has a twenty-barrel producer. In Malta township, Moran county, the Day Oil Company's Nos. 3 and 4 on the A. A. Porter farm are five barrel pumps in the Cow Run sand. In Pennsylvania township, E. W. Pitts has completed a second test on the Charles Harkins farm and has a light pumper in the Pecker sand.

In the Jacks Run district, Allegheny county, Pa., Nock and Company's test on the John Nock farm, is a ten-barrel pumper, and Stier and Company's second test on the Thomas Hartman farm has been shot and is showing for a ten or fifteen barrel
